Facts And Circumstances Test
The Center qualifies as a publicly supported organization under the facts and circumstances test set forth in Treas Reg 1.170A-9T(F)(3). The Center's public support exceeded the 10 percent threshold for public charities. Moreover, the Center's ongoing program of solicitations, its sources of support, its governing body and the programs it conducts all demonstrate sufficient public support to meet the facts and circumstances test. The Center's 2011 public support efforts continued an extensive program initiated in 2008. This program includes regular meetings with top executives at many of the nation's largest foundations and corporations to build relationships that will lead to financial support. The ongoing fundraising efforts are expected to raise the public support percentage in future years. Its current sources of support include a variety of private foundations, public charities, businesses and individuals. The Center's public support is further demonstrated by its governing body, which represents the broad interest of the general public. Directors and officers include executives from large national corporations, public charities, and foundations, which bring specialized knowledge and experience in international relations, economic development, education, global security, and civic leadership. The Center provides programs to the general public on a continuing basis, including events in 2011 in a variety of states around the country, which drew thousands of people. Participants and attendees include members of congress, state legislators, former governors, retired military leaders, journalists, international affairs specialists, and other civic leaders and members of the public with specialized expertise in the subject of U.S. global engagement.

	Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 3	The Center has a contractual agreement with an independent contractor, Schraye & Associates, Inc , to provide strategic, program, management, and fundraising services to the Center. Schraye & Associates assigns various employees to provide such services, including Elizabeth Schraye, who serves as the Center's Executive Director. Other functions provided by Schraye & Associates include administrative, operational and communications support. To determine whether its payments to Schraye & Associates are reasonable and appropriate, the Center evaluates the rates charged for comparable management services provided by similar consulting firms to other non profit organizations of similar size, scope and purpose. Additionally, the Center examines the costs and impact of acquiring such services in-house, versus purchasing the services from an external firm. This analysis is conducted annually as part of the budget process.
	Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 11	The Center's Executive Director, finance department, legal counsel and full governing board review Form 990 prior to its submission to the IRS.
	Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c	Pursuant to the guidelines outlined in its policy handbook, the Center conducts periodic reviews to ensure ongoing compliance with its written conflict of interest policy. Key employees and all members of the governing body review and sign the conflict of interest policy annually.
	Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15b	The Center maintains a compensation committee which reviews comparability data and approves compensation for top management and key employees each year. Meetings and deliberations of the compensation committee were contemporaneously documented, and recommendations were approved by the governing body during the annual budget process.
	Form 990, Part VI, Section C, line 19	The Center makes its governing documents, conflict of interest policy and financial statements available to the public upon request.
	Form 990, Part XII, Line 2c	The Center's Board of Directors is responsible for oversight of the audit, including the selection of the independent accountant. The process is consistent with previous years.
